Bandung Conference Ends on Peace Note

By OLEN CLEMENTS
BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP)—Delegates to the Asian-African conference headed home today. The 29-nation parley came to a harmonious close yesterday with a series of unanimous resolutions designed to foster peace among the world's diverse peoples.

Red China's Chou En-lai sounded one jarring note at the windup. After stealing the show Saturday with his call for direct talks with the United States on the thorny Formosa issue, the Communist Premier declared that "Peiping would not yield its 'sovereign right in the liberation' of Chiang Kai-shek's island bastion."

The seven-day conference was marked by frequent clashes between pro and anti-Communist elements. But it reached last-minute agreement on the major issue that nearly caused a stalemate—the touchy colonial question.

After hours of deliberation a subcommittee finally came up with an acceptable resolution condemning colonialism "in all its manifestations." It carefully avoided specifying either Western or Communist colonialism.

The final conference communiqué outlined these principal stands—in addition to that on colonialism—adopted during the meeting:

1. Universal membership in the United Nations to promote world peace—an oblique reference to Red China's demands for a seat in the world organization. It was the closest the conference came to backing Peiping on that score.

2. Economic cooperation among the Asian-African nations "on the basis of mutual interest and respect for national sovereignty."

3. Cultural understanding among nations through cooperation. This stemmed from the resolutions condemning colonialism and racialism.

4. Full support for the principle of self-determination "of peoples and nations as set forth in the charter of the United Nations." The conference agreed on a seven-point blueprint for coexistence, including opposition to collective pacts designed "to serve particular interests of any big powers."

5. Support for the "courageous stand taken by the victims of racial discrimination, especially by the peoples of African, Indian and Pakistani origin in South Africa."

6. Support for the rights of the North Africans to self-determination, a reference to the Nationalist demands in the French territories there. France was urged to bring about a peaceful settlement "without delay."

7. Support for the "rights of the Arab people of Palestine" and a call for a peaceful settlement there. Though the resolution did not mention Israel by name, its anti-Israeli intent was clear.

8. Support for the "rights of the Korean people of Palestine" and a call for a peaceful settlement there. Though the resolution did not mention Israel by name, its anti-Israeli intent was clear.

Will Demonstrate Peacetime Use Of Nuclear Energy

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower today unveiled plans to send a new atomic powered merchant ship around the globe in a dramatic demonstration of America's determination to win "a just and lasting peace."

The new vessel, the President said, will travel thousands of miles without refueling and "will demonstrate to people everywhere this peacetime use of atomic energy, harnessed for the improvement of human living."

Eisenhower disclosed his intention to ask Congress for funds to build the new ship in a speech prepared for delivery at the annual luncheon meeting of The Associated Press at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. About 1,300 of the nation's publishers and editors were on hand for the start of Newspaper Week in New York.

The President coupled his surprise announcement of plans for the atomic-powered ship with a new plea for congressional enactment of the administration program to cut tariffs 15 per cent over the next three years.

Eisenhower made no direct mention of Red China's weekend offer to negotiate with the United States to relax tension in the Formosa area. But in an obvious reference to Communist China and Russia, the President said "certain dictators have engaged in a deliberately conceived drive, which periodically creates alarms and fears of war."

Packed With Danger
Eisenhower also spoke of the "unprecedented crises of these days—packed with danger," and linked the idea of freer world trade to the battle against "Godless Communism."

"Either we foster flourishing trade between the free nations or we weaken the Free World and our own economy," Eisenhower said. The administration's bill to extend the Reciprocal Trade Act three years has passed the House but still faces rough going in the Senate.

Rejection of the program, Eisenhower said, "would constitute a serious setback to our hopes for global peace." He said that on the other hand:

"Two-way trade, I believe, is a broad avenue by which all men and nations of good will can travel toward a golden era of peace and plenty."

Eisenhower said his administration "shall not be bound by a slavish adherence to precedent or halted by the lack of it" in searching for enduring peace. It was against the background of that concept that he made this announcement.

"We have added to the United States program for peaceful uses of atomic energy an atomic powered merchant ship. The Atomic

Members Of The Bob Pope family stand in the ruins of their home, one of about 40 destroyed when a tornado struck near Hartselle, Ala., Sunday. Tornado Kills 4 At Hartselle, Ala.

HARTSELLE, Ala. (AP)—"A giant whirlwind with red dust," the third tornado to hit this community in 23 years, left four dead yesterday, up to 25 hurt and damages that may exceed $750,000.

The dead included a small brother and sister and a 60-year-old couple. Homeless residents of this battered north Alabama farming section met soon after the storm to begin plans for rebuilding their shattered homesteads.

A Red Cross official said 20 to 25 persons were injured. Fifteen persons were taken to hospitals at Hartselle and Cullman. Highway patrol and civil defense officials said 40 houses were destroyed, 30 more damaged and 2 churches blown away.

Damage to buildings alone was placed at near $750,000. When the loss to livestock, crops and utilities is totaled, that figure may go many thousands of dollars higher.

The tornado ripped along a 20-mile area from near Piney Grove to just south of Hartselle, leaving a swath of devastation one quarter to one half a mile wide. The section is about 75 miles north of Birmingham.

Similar spring storms struck the same area in 1932 and 1952. The 1932 total was 31 dead and 81 injured, and that in 1952 four dead and 60 hurt.

Ronnie Lee Nails, 3, of near Massey, died of storm injuries in a Hartselle hospital last night. His sister, Ida Marie, 10, was killed outright. Their mother Mrs. Clyde Nails and three other Nails children were among the injured.

The other dead were Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith, both about 60.

The storm raged through a cluster of communities around Massey west of here, but missed Massey itself. Residents there met last night to organize the entire community as a labor force to help their farm neighbors rebuild.

National Guard troops remained on duty through the night to help survivors and keep roads open. Price Hogan described the tornado as "like a giant whirlwind with red dirt and stuff flying around."

Cedar Plains was wiped out when its three houses, their outbuildings and a church were destroyed.

Held for questioning is Dr. A. Arnold Axilrod, 49, Minneapolis dentist. Detective Inspector Charles Wetherill said Dr. Axilrod had told authorities Mrs. Moonen had accused him of being the father of her unborn child.

The coroner said an examination had shown Mrs. Moonen was in her third month of pregnancy. The Moonens have a daughter, Gloria, 9 months.

Wetherill said Dr. Axilrod told him the woman claimed he gave her a sleeping pill in his office and assaulted her. Dr. Axilrod denied this. He told Wetherill Mrs. Moonen came to his office Friday evening and made the accusation again before they went for a ride.

The dentist told Wetherill that Mrs. Moonen's charge she was "going to expose me to the world" made him "boiling mad." He said he "blacked out" and when he regained composure the woman was gone.

Wetherill said Dr. Axilrod told him he had never "dated" Mrs. Moonen but had once or twice driven her to the home of her sister.

Big 3 Foreign Ministers Set May 8 Meeting

U.S., Britain, France To Discuss Plans for Conference With Russ

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western Big Three foreign ministers will meet in Paris May 8 "to discuss concrete plans for holding a four-power conference with the Soviet government."

The State Department in announcing this today said the United States, Britain and France "earnestly hope that a four-power conference can meet as soon as possible."

The brief announcement did not say at what level it hoped the meeting with Russia could be held. President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have said in the past that a four-power foreign ministers conference should precede any meetings of heads of state.

In preparation for the May 8 Paris meeting, American, British and French technical experts will meet in London Wednesday to make what the State Department called "a preliminary study" of the problems to be discussed by the foreign ministers.

The State Department said that "in accordance with the usual practice" the three Western governments will discuss the possible Big Four conference with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and representatives of other Atlantic Pact governments.

No Hint Yet Of Decision On Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Top-level sessions on the Formosa situation will be resumed tonight. There still has been no hint as to the specific nature of the emergency mission of two high U.S. officials.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Asst. Secretary of State Walter Robertson conferred with President Chiang Kai-shek six hours yesterday, shortly after their arrival.

A Chinese source said they discussed the "broad, over-all situation" in the Formosa area, not merely the question of the Matsus and Quemoy, Communist-menaced offshore islands.

Radford and Robertson came to Formosa hurriedly to confer on the U.S.-China mutual defense pact under which the State and Defense departments described as "the tense situation which continues in the area." However, Secretary of State Dulles said Wednesday "no crisis is involved."

Radford and Robertson will dine with Chiang again tonight and it was said the situation would be discussed further after dinner.

Surtax on Incomes, Withholding Levy Compromise Basis

By JACK MACKAY And ADOLPH JOHNSON
ST. PAUL (AP)—A special session of the Minnesota Legislature to solve the tax problem appeared inevitable today.

With time running out, top leaders said liberal opposition to the package tax plan proposed by a conference committee made it virtually impossible for the Legislature to finish by the midnight deadline.

Gov. Freeman declined to comment when asked what the date would be if it becomes necessary to call a special session.

A House-Senate conference committee reached agreement on a package tax program that would produce $13,177,000 for the general revenue fund each of the next two years to balance the state's budget.

Predictions for a special session were based on strong opposition to the package plan by a number of House liberals and on failure to reach an agreement on constitutional diversion of iron ore occupation taxes.

Sen. Archie Miller, Hopkins, Senate majority leader, said at noon that he doubted there was any chance for the Legislature to finish its work by the midnight deadline. Only 12 hours remained to complete business of the Legislature. All bills must be signed by midnight tonight.

Acceptance Urged
Rep. Charles Halsted, Brainerd, urged acceptance of the tax package at a liberal caucus in the governor's office this forenoon, several hours after the conference committee reported its agreement.

Halsted told his colleagues and the governor that 70 liberals went down to defeat in the election that followed the 1937 special legislative session.

The conference committee agreement was outlined in the House Reserves Judgment

ST. PAUL (AP)—Gov. Freeman said this morning he was reserving judgment on the reported tax settlement agreed by the Senate-House conference committee "until I see the bills in writing."

Speaking generally, he said he felt the tax package was an improvement over the original Senate proposition, but still only half what the mining companies should be paying.

before the caucus by Majority Leader Fred Cina, Aurora.

Cina said the conference had agreed on an income tax withholding system for collection of individual income taxes. It would go into effect July 1, 1956, with 25 per cent forgiveness.

10 Bills Necessary
The House conferees yielded to the Senate proposal for a graduated tax on net incomes of individuals and an additional 1 per cent income tax on corporations.

Rep. Cina listed 10 bills, six of them tax bills, which must be acted upon before the Legislature can adjourn.

Gov. Freeman informed of the agreement, said he was reserving judgment "until I see the bills in writing."

Preceding consideration by the House of the conference report, a caucus of all liberals was held.

Faced by Accuser Woman Maintains Murder Innocence

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Mrs. Marjorie Smith "didn't bat an eye" when confronted by a man who said she had tried to involve him in a death plot against her husband.

That was the way police described the meeting yesterday between Mrs. Smith and Thomas A. Marlin, her accuser.

The 35-year-old mother of two children is charged with first-degree murder in the bomb death here last Thursday of her husband, Kermit, a Portland attorney.

Throughout long hours of questioning she has steadfastly maintained her innocence, despite a confession of Victor L. Wolf, a Portland electrician, that he and Mrs. Smith plotted the slaying.

Wolf said he hooked up a dynamite charge in Smith's car that went off when Smith turned the ignition key. Smith was killed outright. Wolf's statement said the motive was love for Mrs. Smith and $21,000 insurance on Smith.

Wolf, 45, and Mrs. Smith were arrested within 24 hours after the slaying.

Laird to Keep Up Fight Against Milk Barriers

By RICHARD P. POWERS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R-Wis.)—says he's going to keep fighting to remove artificial barriers against the flow of milk but is not optimistic about the chances of his current effort.

A House Agriculture Subcommittee now is considering a bill by Laird designed to eliminate the barriers created by federal marketing agreements.

His proposal would amend the marketing agreements to permit any milk meeting U.S. Public Health Service Standards to flow freely in interstate commerce.

Most large metropolitan centers in the country have milk marketing agreements. Under these, as a general rule, only a relatively small area of producers can send milk into such centers.

It is Laird's idea that, if such barriers could be removed, the price of fluid milk could be lowered in the large consuming centers and this would increase sales of milk and cut materially into today's surplus of fluid milk, thus helping the dairy farmer.

"At present, 45 per cent of our milk production goes into butter, cheese and such products and 55 per cent is used as fluid milk," Laird said in an interview.

"There is not much chance of using a great deal more milk for manufactured products. So, the answer lies in using more as fluid milk."

"But the doors are closed to increasing the use of Wisconsin fluid milk to any great extent because of artificial barriers erected around the large concentrated areas of population."

As an example, he cited New York city, where he said the situation is this:

Fluid milk sells there for 25 to 26 cents a quart. The farmer who supplies that market gets about eight cents a quart for his milk. Fixed labor and processing costs amount to nearly 15 cents a quart. Transportation and other costs make up the balance.

"By allowing Wisconsin milk to go into New York city, it could reduce the price of milk by two cents a quart," Laird said. "Wisconsin farmers would get five to six cents a quart, which they now get for that which they sell in Wisconsin. The Wisconsin farmer gets from four to five cents a quart for that milk that goes into manufactured products."

If his proposal were adopted, Laird said, local ordinances could not bar milk sold in interstate commerce.

Laird is a member of the 7-man subcommittee which is holding a hearing on his measure and similar legislation by other House members.

Others on the subcommittee are Reps. Abernethy (D-Miss), Polk (D-Ohio), Lester Johnson (D-Wis), Coya Knutson (D-Minn.), August H. Andresen (R-Minn.) and Williams (R-NY).

Legislation Favored

He said such legislation is favored by Reps. Johnson, Knutson and Andresen, in addition to himself. As a result, he said, a majority of the subcommittee will support it.

But he doesn't know whether a majority of the full House Agriculture Committee will support it. And even if the full committee should go for it, Laird said it is questionable whether both Senate and House would approve it.

"The producers in the protected areas are bombarding Congress with letters against the bill," Laird said.

"I am getting such letters from

New York, Ohio and from areas in other states where they have such milk marketing agreements.

"But we get little reaction from the consumer. Other members tell me they get letters of opposition but none in support of it. As a result, the chances of its passage in either the House or Senate are not very good.

"Logically, the House members from the big city areas should support the legislation in the interest of the consumer. But most oppose it on the basis of opposition from the producer.

"I get letters saying they do not want that 'cheap, unsanitary Wisconsin milk.' Actually Wisconsin milk has the highest standards of any milk in the country."

Churches Here Host to Two Youth Rallies

Lutheran, Methodist Young People Meet For Talks, Study

Two Protestant youth rallies were held in Winona Sunday evening — one at Central Lutheran, where 250 Luther Leaguers of the Fillmore Circuit gathered for a spring convention, and the other at Central Methodist, where 98 intermediate members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Southeastern Minnesota convened.

At CENTRAL LUTHERAN, Roger Gordon, Houston, was elected president of the Fillmore Circuit Lutheran League replacing Ann Ferguson. Rushford, others named were: Robert Stokkough, Harmony, vice president, succeeding Gene Olstad, Rushford, Kay Jaastad, Rushford, secretary, replacing Janice Thoreson, Arendahl Township, Fillmore County; Robert Bergsrud, Winona, treasurer, replacing John Ries, Winona, and Pat Foss, Spring Grove, Pocket Testament League secretary, replacing Pat Schevel, Preston.

The Rev. Philip Gangsei, St. Charles, was named to the Bible camp board to succeed the Rev. A. M. Jochen, Lanesboro, and the Rev. A. A. Braaten, Houston, succeeds the Rev. I. E. Grollid, Peterson, as pastoral adviser of the circuit Luther League.

A Bible study was led in the afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Gangsei and Mary Haake, president of the Central league, gave the welcome address. Music was provided by a male chorus from Houston and a panel of four Luther College students, Decorah, Iowa, discussed "Christian Education." Patricia Schevel, Preston, reported on Pocket Testament activity. The Rev. Lavern Hanson, Trinity Lutheran Church, La Crosse, spoke on "Not Good If Detached."

Nancy Thode, Central, Winona, led evening devotions; Gene Olstad and Charles Austad, Rushford, played a cornet duet; Dr. L. E. Brynstad installed officers; Marjory Bakken, Spring Grove, sang a solo, and the La Crosse pastor spoke on "A Sign To Make Hell Tremble." A meal was served at the church between the afternoon and night sessions.

At CENTRAL METHODIST, a panel discussion and movies highlighted a subdistrict rally with a theme "We Belong To Families."

A panel of Central youth talked over such questions as: Should you drop a friend because he or she starts to drink or smoke? Should teen-agers be paid for jobs around home? Is it right to take a friend along when you baby sit? Should a teen-ager be expected to baby sit with younger brothers and sisters? Why do parents have to stand around when we bring a gang in? Does a family council help to solve problems around a home? Why don't newspapers write about boys and girls who try to live right rather than about the 5 per cent who are delinquents? How can a teen-ager start family worship in the home if there is no devotion program there?

Serving on the panel were Delvan Boardman, Joyce Morcomb, Sandy McQueen, Dianne Schultz and Ann Snyder. Aiding them were Herbert Johnson, Winona YMCA; Miss Evelyn Taraldson, Winona County welfare department; Mrs. Mavis Hegge, Winona school teacher, and parent and Harry Peirce, moderator.

Wayne Marzoff, Janet Yaste, Linda Yaste, Ann Williams, Judy Hovelson, Marcia Miller and Sigurd Halverson, of Preston Methodist Church, were in charge of devotions. David Doner, Winona Central, president of the MYF, gave the address of welcome. Peirce was in charge of recreation and Mrs. P. Earl Schwab, counselor of the Central intermediates, was in charge of the program.

Frost Possible In Deep Valleys

Colder temperatures, with a possibility of frost in deep valleys, is forecast here tonight. The Weather Bureau said temperatures in rural areas may get as low as 34 degrees with 38 expected in the city.

The cold spell comes on the heels of an inch and a quarter of weekend rain.

A total of 1.14 inches fell during the 24-hour period ending at noon Sunday and an additional .14 of an inch fell before the rain ended about 5 p.m. Sunday. It boosted the month's total to 3.74 inches, well above the 2.31 normal April figure but still below the April 1954 total of 8.29 inches.

Tuesday will be partly cloudy and warmer, the forecast continues, with a high of 68 degrees expected in the afternoon.

Car Rammed From Rear at Theater

Damage estimated at $250 resulted from a collision on Highway 61, at the entrance to the Sky Vu outdoor theater in Goodview, at 10 p.m. Saturday.

Sheriff George Fort said that Raymond Heinz, 416 W. Sarnia St., had stopped for the traffic signal at the theater entrance when his car was struck from behind by an automobile driven by Joseph Wilson, Webster City, Iowa.

Damage to the Wilson car was set at $200 and Heinz reported $50 damage to his car.

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (A)—A tall, thin gunman wearing cowboy boots—having either poor eyesight or a dislike for $20 bills—robbed a Sheboygan County filling station of $98 Sunday.

William Schwartz told authorities the man drove into his service station in nearby Edwards Grove and asked the attendant to fill up the tank. Schwartz said the man then entered the station office and at gunpoint ordered Schwartz to open the cash register.

Schwartz said the man took the $98 in smaller bills but left a $20 bill lying in plain sight before driving off in a light green sedan with a Michigan license plate propped up in the rear window. Schwartz said the man had a woman passenger.

City Judge Impounds First License Plates

A new state law, signed only last week by Gov. Orville Freeman, which authorizes the courts to impound the license plates and registration of anyone whose driver's license has been suspended or revoked, was applied in municipal court here for the first time today.

Municipal Judge E. D. Libera this morning ordered impounded the license plates and title of a car owned by Richard Hartwick, 27, La Moille Rd., who pleaded guilty to charges of driving after revocation of his license and failing to stop and identify himself at the scene of an accident.

No definite period was set for the impounding of the plates with the court order to hold until further notice.

Hartwick also paid a $25 fine on each of the two charges.

Cars owned by Ev Gora, 724 E. 3rd St., and Mrs. Lydia Beyers, 724 E. 3rd St., were struck by the Hartwick car while they were parked on East 3rd street near High Forest street at 1:40 a.m. Saturday.

Walter Timm, 21, Minneapolis, forfeited a $25 deposit on a charge of careless driving.

Tim was arrested by police who reported that he made a turn at West 3rd and Main streets at high speed at 4:20 p.m. April 17.

District Court Trials Started

The first jury trial of the spring term of District Court was scheduled to begin this afternoon. Heading the jury calendar is the $17,500 suit brought by survivors of a 7-year-old Dresbach girl, Susan Dearman, who was fatally injured when she was struck by a car near her home on Highway 61 last November.

The driver of the car, Roger Husman, 515 Huff St., is the defendant in the case.

The case is brought by Rudolph Shawley, as trustee for the heirs and next of kin of the accident victim, who is represented by A. Paul Lommen, Minneapolis, while Husman is represented by the firm of George, Brehmer & McMahon. Judge Karl Finkelburg is presiding.

Railroad Worker Quizzed in Theft Of Auto at Alma

ALMA, Wis.—An itinerant railroad section hand, working on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad track project in Buffalo County, is being questioned by authorities here today in connection with an auto theft in Alma Sunday night.

He is being held in the county jail here pending further investigation by Sheriff Glenn Davis. The man is suspected of having taken a car owned by Gordon Hoff, Alma, which was parked in front of the William Miller garage. It was found in a ditch along Highway 35 one mile south of here late in the evening before Hoff had reported it missing, Davis said.

Freeman to Veto Duck Shipping Bill

ST. PAUL (A)—Gov. Freeman will pocket veto a bill that would permit duck hunters to transport waterfowl in any quantity once each week during the hunting season.

Duck hunters now are limited by state law and regulations to three shipments a year. The last waterfowl season ran 55 days.

The governor disclosed Sunday that he will not sign the measure into law. He said it is regarded by the rank and file of sportsmen's organizations as a "game hog" provision and would tend to favor the well-to-do duck hunters who can afford to hunt on successive days and who will wish to make daily shipment of limits.

Pogo Stick Championship

COLUMBUS, Ohio (A)—And now—the world's champion pogo stick hoppers. Eleven-year-old Charles Cook III claimed that title today with the statement: "I've pogo-sticked 2,153 times without stopping." He said he had witnesses to back him up. Comparative records were not available.

Rushford-Houston Highway Bid Opening Slated May 13

Highways 30, 74 Work Also Set For This Year

Extensive improvement of Trunk Highway 16 between Rushford and Houston is included in the largest single bid letting in the history of the Minnesota Department of Highways.

Low bids on 23 trunk road improvement projects, scheduled for opening May 13, will total upwards of $7,000,000, Commissioner M. J. Hoffmann estimated.

One other area project will be combining Trunk Highways 30 and 74 east of Chatfield.

The Highway 16 project will include 9.8 miles of grading and excavation, crushed rock base and road-mixed bituminous surfacing and construction of nine box culverts. It will be from the junction with Highway 43 and a point .8 of a mile west of Houston.

Culvert work will include replacement of some of the troublesome bridges that roused area residents about two years ago after four narrow bridges within a 2.7-mile stretch claimed four accident victims in a three-year period.

All Hit Abatement
Each of the four died as their cars crashed into the concrete bridge abutment. The first fatality death occurred on July 21, 1950, with other fatalities on Dec. 6, 1952, Jan. 1, 1953, and April 25, 1953.

The concrete box culverts would eliminate the narrow bridge problem. The present highway is about 24 feet wide, but the roadway on the concrete bridges is only about 18 or 20 feet wide.

At present there are six concrete abutment bridges and two steel rail bridges between Rushford and Houston.

According to bid plans, the Highway 16 project will require 1,160,276 cubic yards of class A excavation; 85,632 cubic yards of class B excavation; 260,605 cubic yards of borrow excavation; 19,357 cubic yards of salvaged bituminous mixture; 21,803 lineal feet of double cable guard rail; 75,713 tons of crushed rock base; 45,100 gallons of bituminous prime coat; 150,300 gallons of bituminous material for mixture and 11,271 tons of aggregate in addition to the nine box culverts.

The project involving Trunk Highways 30 and 74 will be a consolidation of the two parallel roads from CHATFIELD to a point two miles west of Pilot Mound.

Construction will generally follow the route of Highway 74 east from Chatfield for about 3.5 miles from where a connecting link to Highway 30 will leave the roadway, rejoining Highway 30 almost directly south of Troy.

The plans for grading, application of a crushed rock base and crushed rock surfacing the 6.8-mile stretch call for 389,933 cubic yards of class A excavation; 137,319 cubic yards of class B excavation; 1,380 square feet of concrete walk; 679 cubic yards of concrete erosion control structure; 2,677 lineal feet of 12-inch to 24-inch sewer; 43,451 tons of crushed rock base; 3,696 tons of crushed rock wearing course and two concrete box culverts.

City to Assign Garden Plots

Garden plots will be assigned to Winonans who have registered for park-recreation department public gardens Tuesday, and Wednesday between 4 and 7:30 p.m. Director M. J. Bambenek said today.

Assignments will be made for about 100 of the 50- to 100-foot plots. Registrants are asked to report at the corner of Dakota and Lake streets for assignments.

Bambenek noted that most of these gardens are an area immediately north of Lake Winona between Dakota street and the Gilmore Creek. Most of the 100 garden areas between Huff and Dakota streets have been reassigned to gardeners who used that area last year.

There will be no public gardens in the area along the area west of Mankato avenue between Sarnia street and Lake Winona this year.

Bambenek said that plots not assigned Tuesday or Wednesday will be issued from the park-recreation office in the City Hall.

11 Killed in Clashes Of French, Guerrillas

ALGIERS, Algeria (A)—Scattered weekend clashes between French security forces and guerrilla bands resulted in 11 deaths in troubled Algeria as Moslem faithful began the observance of Ramadan, their holy month.

Eight Algerians died in fighting with the French and two were found bound, their throats cut by unknown assailants. One French paratrooper fell in battle with guerrillas in northern Algeria.

Time is a vital factor in cancer cure. The American Cancer Society says that, in its early stages, before "talk" cancer is highly curable. Periodic physical examinations are urged as the best cancer insurance. Our nation will have about 500,000 new cancer cases this year, the American Cancer Society estimates. That means a loss of 3,500,000 man-years of work, and will cost society $12,000,000,000 in lost goods and services.

Gymnasiums Differ, German Teacher Says

The German gymnasium—unlike those in the U.S.—has more books and classrooms than anything else, a German teacher told Winonans over the weekend as he surveyed a variety of facilities here.

Heinz Schaefer told YMCA leaders and others that German boys don't have the variety of supervised play and recreation available that American youths have. There are two reasons for that, he said. First of all, the boys are too busy studying, and secondly, the recreation and sports program isn't as broad in schools.

At the Leunen gymnasium (high school) where he teaches boys 10 to 20, they can choose one sport and that's it, Schaefer said. There are no "four-letter winners," Schaefer teaches French, history and physical education.

But German youth is interested in sports: Schaefer is a member of the executive committee of the youth council of Leunen (population about 62,000) which comprises about 12 youth clubs and organizations with a total membership of about 20,000. Schaefer is an adviser to those interested in track and field, skiing, rowing and swimming. There's a heavy emphasis on the more formal activities, such as gymnastics.

Schaefer is in the U.S. for 60 days as a participant in the foreign leader program of the International Exchange Service of the Department of State. He came to Minnesota for a week under the sponsorship of Joseph Grunz, Faribault recreation director, who was in Europe last summer under the national recreation program where he participated in the training of German youth leaders.

While in Winona he observed informal youth activities at the "Y," the Park-Recreation Board baseball clinic at Athletic Park and the Girl Scout camp near Trempealeau. He conferred with M. J. Bambenek, park-recreation director, and "Y" leaders.

While here, he also met Rolf Gerlach, German boy, one of six exchange students in the city for the current school year.

County Farmer On FHA Group

Edwin A. Greethurst, Wiscovy Valley farmer, has been named to a five-man advisory committee to the Farmers Home Administration in Minnesota.

The committee was named to replace a nine-man group.

Greethurst is a dairy farmer.

Winona Man Elected By State Exchange

Carl W. Frank, Winona, was elected to a two-year term to the board of the Minnesota State Exchange Clubs at the annual convention over the weekend at Minneapolis.

Frank was the first president of the Winona club. Also attending from Winona was Walter A. Dopke. New state president is Ralph M. Keeley, Crookston.

Crash Near Weaver Damages Two Cars

WEAVER, Minn.—Two cars were damaged in a collision on Highway 61, three miles north of here, at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

The drivers were identified by Minnesota Highway Patrolman Oscar Krenzke, Lewiston, as Lennart Ambrose, Chicago, and Mrs. Sheila Sanford, Minneapolis. He said both vehicles were traveling south on Highway 61 when Mrs. Sanford ran into the rear end of the Ambrose car.

Mrs. Sanford reported $75 damage to her car while the other automobile was damaged only slightly. After the collision the Sanford car spun around and bumped against a roadside bluff.

Police Arrest Two Hit-Run Mishap Drivers

Hubcap Evidence In Tracing Identity Of One Motorist

An automobile hubcap and a license number led to the arrest of two motorists on hit-run charges, police reported today.

The hubcap was found by Patrolman Irvin Przytarski after a car owned by a motor company and used by Cecil Kieffer, 617 E. 2nd St., had been struck by an unidentified automobile at 1:10 a.m. Sunday on East 2nd near Zumbro streets.

From the hubcap police determined that the automobile sought in the accident was a 1938 blue Nash and Detectives George R. Meyers and Marvin A. Meier checked the listings of such cars in the city.

The owner of one of these automobiles was found to be Edward Urbick, 33, 1761 W. Wabasha St., who under questioning by police admitted that he was driving the car that struck the parked Kieffer automobile.

Urbick was charged with failing to stop and identify himself at the scene of an accident and driving without a license.

He paid a $25 fine on the accident charge and $20 on the license count after pleading guilty to both charges in municipal court this morning.

Child Hit by Car
At 8:25 a.m. today police received a call from Mrs. Harry Erdmanczyk, 306 E. 4th St., who said that two men had brought her young son home and told her that the child was struck by a car at East 3rd and Kansas streets and that the automobile did not stop after the mishap. The child was believed to have suffered only minor leg bruises.

Witnesses furnished police with the license number of the car and the owner was notified. Police learned that John Kauphusman, 873 E. Broadway, was using the car this morning but the accident witnesses said that a girl was driving the car.

Subsequent investigation, police said, revealed that Kauphusman's friend, Jean Graves, 16, 1057 E. Sanborn St., was driving the automobile at the time and she was charged with failing to stop at the scene of the accident. She was referred to juvenile authorities.

Kauphusman was charged with permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle.

Woman Injured
A Winona woman was injured when the car in which she was riding was involved in a collision at East 5th and Walnut streets at 1:48 p.m. Saturday.

Treated for body bruises suffered in the mishap was Mrs. Mary Demmer, 66, 76 Morgan Block, a passenger in a car driven by Rudy Bauer, 103 W. Wabasha St.

Bauer and the driver of the other car, Robert Christopherson, 353 E. King St., were not injured in the collision.

Bauer reported $100 damage to his car and damage to the Christopherson car was estimated at $10.

Pedestrian 'Brushed'
Mrs. Clara Chamberlin, 73, 1054 Center St., apparently escaped with only minor finger and leg injuries when she was struck by a car at West 3rd and Main streets at 9:40 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Chamberlin was walking east across Main street when she was struck by a car that was traveling west on 3rd street and turning south on Main Street.

Police were told that the driver of the car did not stop after the accident.

Actor Solves Work Problem By Going Home

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Eduardo Ciannelli, veteran of 100 movies, had a simple solution when movie work became scarce for actors. He returned to his native Italy.

The actor is back in Hollywood after a three-year absence. He explained why he was gone:

"There is much more film activity in Italy than in Hollywood. Why stay here waiting for jobs when you can be working all the time over there?"

That may come as a blow to Hollywood's pride, but it's true. Movie production is limping along here. The two largest studios, MGM and 20th Century-Fox, used to have eight or nine pictures going in the lush days. Last week they had one apiece.

Meanwhile Hollywood on the Tiber has been booming. Ciannelli was a natural to cash in on the boom. Well-known as an actor in this country and abroad, he speaks English and Italian equally well. French, too.

Ciannelli explained how he happened to make the trip to Italy: "David Selznick wanted me to appear with his wife, Jennifer Jones, in a revival of 'St. Joan,' which I had done with Katharine Cornell many years before. I agreed to do it. I decided to take the train to New York, because I wanted the time to study the long part."

"By the time I got to New York, I knew the part. But I found out the play had been canceled. I stayed over to do a TV play on Studio One. Then I received a cable about a film in Italy. That was on a Thursday and I had to be in Rome to start Monday. I made it in time, and I stayed for 10 more pictures."

Born on an island near Naples, he trained to be an opera singer. He came to the United States "for a month's visit," ended up staying here. He met his wife and embarked on a distinguished career as an actor, not a singer.

He became one of Hollywood's busiest character actors, usually as a gangster or some other villain.

Chou Quoted as Saying Formosa 'Will Be Liberated'

TOKYO (U)—Shozo Murata, former Japanese ambassador to Manila, today quoted Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai as telling him "the Chinese people are simply sick and tired of war" but "Formosa will be liberated."

Murata said Chou made the statements to him in January, when he visited Peking for unofficial trade talks.

"Chou told me he personally feels friendship for the American people," Murata said in an interview, "but he resents the administration's attitude of dangling weapons before the Chinese."

"Chou said the United States has surrounded China with military bases and its fleet. The Chinese feel they are looking at gun muzzles in every direction. In such a position it is reasonable for Chinese to map out their defense."

Murata said Chou portrayed the Korean War "as simply forced on us" when U.N. troops drove through North Korea toward Manchuria.

Since 1901 the expectation of life at age 40 has been increased about four years for white men and seven years for white women in the United States.

Songwriter Finds Lost Chords Pay

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Here's a true Tin Pan Alley Tale: Benny Davis, composer of "Margie," got a call from Warner Bros. in Hollywood asking for permission to use his song, "I'm Gonna Meet My No. 1 Sweetie Now."

"I don't remember writing it," Benny said. "You wrote it," he was asked. "We want to use it in Jack Webb's picture, 'Pete Kelly's Blues.' Let us know your price."

"All right—if I wrote it," said Davis. Finding he did indeed write it 20 years ago, he didn't ask them the usual $300, but multiplied that by 20, and asked $6,000. They quickly approved that price. Benny, however, is not happy about it.

"If I'd had any brains," he says, "I could have got $10,000." Red Buttons told Irving Heller the tailor, "Fit my garments loose around the waist and tight around the price."

A fan called Joe DiMaggio a Big Wheel, whereupon he replied, "Many a Big Wheel is cracked." Harry Hershfield Day'll be celebrated May 17. Hershfield says that despite all this celebration, his epitaph will still read, "Here lies Harry Hershfield. If not, notify Riverside undertakers immediately."

Eddie Davis, the wild man ex-cab driver who's co-author of "Ankles Aweigh," had a little run-in with Jerome Robbins, "the play doctor," but they patched it up. "If we hadn't," said Davis, "I'd a-run him over with a taxi!"

Sheilah Bond—Who has a couple of bathtub scenes in "Lupatins and Lovers"—spends the time between the scenes reading in the tub. "What do you read?" she was asked. "Just now," she replied, "I'm reading '...' and her voice trailed off.

"Did you say 'The Falling Tights'?" Sheilah was asked, and in surprise, she replied, "I said 'Fail of a Titan'!"

"Galloping to Gallipolis," a new song by Jerry Field, ex-bus-band of singer Sunny Gale, intrigued us—since Gallipolis was O. O. McIntyre's home town—and Sonia Henie's around Las Vegas with Liberace... Betty Clooney replaces Jaye P. Morgan on the Bob & Tom TV May 1... Philip Truex (Ernest's son) may give acting the go-by to become a horticulturist... Jean Martin (Mrs. Wm. Black), who's expecting, is sporting a mink maternity coat... Billy Rose took Joyce Mathews to the Cafe Theater, on the site of his famous Diamond Horseshoe... Marie McDonald's at Mt. Sinai Hosp.

Earl's Pearls... There was a news story recently about a fireball that "lit up all East Texas." We doubt it. Probably just some Texas oilman's cigaret lighter—Lillie Cook.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: An untalented, unpopular singer was reported signed by an automobile company. "To do what?" sneered Jack Tirman. "As a mechanic?"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "There are some people who not only keep you from being lonely," says L. S. McCandless, "but make you wish you were."

"Be nice to your friends," advises Lee Marvin. "After all, if it wasn't for them, you'd be a total stranger."... That's earl, brother.

Air Force Cuts Conventional Bomb Plan $950 Million

WASHINGTON (U)—The Air Force says it has slashed $950 million off its conventional bomb program for the current year in view of its growing stockpile of nuclear weapons.

Maj. Gen. Frank A. Bogart, Air Force budget director, gave the figure in testimony before the House Appropriations subcommittee released today.

Replying to a question from Rep. Scrivner (R-Kan.), the general said the Air Force now plans to spend $1,143,000,000 for conventional bombs during the year ending June 30. Last year it asked Congress for $2,093,000,000.

He gave no figures on the number of either type of bombs to be procured.

Stock Traders Now Put Up More Margin

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U)—Stock buying on the cuff has continued to rise. So Wall Street wasn't surprised when the Federal Reserve Board gave another warning against speculation. It raised margins, effective today, to 70 per cent, thus making traders put up more cash when they buy stocks.

But there is considerable debate over how much effect—beyond the temporary and psychological one—that the raising or lowering of margins has upon the trend of stock prices or even upon the volume of speculative trading.

In January 1946, when stocks were rising, the board put trading on an all-cash basis by raising margins to 100 per cent. But stock prices continued to rise for several months.

On the other hand, this January when the board was getting nervous about the signs of speculation in stocks, it raised the margin to 60 per cent from 50 per cent. There was a break in stock prices. But shortly the bull market resumed.

The new margin rule means that a broker's customer has to put up $70 in cash to buy a $100 share. The broker can carry him for the remaining $30. And frequently the broker borrows from a bank to carry such stock.

The amount of money New York banks have lent brokers and dealers, presumably to carry customers' margin trading, is now 761 million dollars higher than at this time last year. The total is now more than 134 billion dollars, the highest since the Federal Reserve began collecting this data in 1944.

Concern over this evidence of speculation probably caused the board to raise margins again, brokers say. In a market as nervous as this one has been recently the psychological effect might be strong, they say. But some question its long-term effect.

Police Seek Clues In Slaying Of Schoolteacher

NEWPORT, R. I. (U)—Police were seeking clues today in the rape-slaying of Miss Susan B. Franklin, 86, a retired schoolteacher and member of an old Newport family.

Her body was found yesterday on a bed in her colonial home, where she lived alone, in the historic Point section of fashionable Newport.

Her hands were tied behind her back and her ankles were bound with heavy cord.

Medical Examiner Arthur E. O'Dea said she was beaten on the face. Death was due to asphyxiation.

Police Capt. John P. Connolly said, "There is no suspect and there is little to go on."

Cigarette, Coffee Rations Cut for Troops Abroad

HEIDELBERG, Germany (U)—The U. S. Army and Air force in Europe today announced cuts in cigarette and coffee rations effective May 1. The forces are waging a campaign against black market.

Cigarette allotments will be reduced from 15 to 10 packages weekly in Germany and France. The limit of 10 has been in effect in Britain for two years. Persons who certify they smoke more can get as much as five packs additional per week.

The present one-pound monthly coffee ration for personnel living in barracks will be eliminated. Military personnel living in their own quarters can still get four pounds a month.

The Army said surveys showed present rations exceed actual needs.

A number of American Army wives have been caught in the campaign against black marketing. Military courts fined some of them for bartering post exchange coffee and cigarettes.

German customs authorities today announced the smashing of a large scale cigarette smuggling ring at Ulm. The customs agents said 5,000 cartons of American cigarettes had been illegally sold at a big firm at Ulm the past year.

Air Force Steps Up Security Guard

WASHINGTON (U)—A new report to Congress showed today a multi-fold stepup in the Air Force's personnel security program over the past two years.

The report, given to a House Appropriations subcommittee during budget hearings and made public today, disclosed:

1. The Air Force filed security risk cases against 260 uniformed personnel in 1953 and 1954. In the two years before that, in 1951 and 1952, it handled only 15 such cases.

2. In the past two years, the Air Force discharged 37 officers or airmen on security grounds. In the two preceding years, it made no such discharges.

3. In 1953-54, in addition to the outright security discharges, 164 Air Force men resigned or were discharged on other technical grounds prior to settlement of their security cases. For the 1951-52 period, there were only 15 such cases.

4. Over the past two years, 59 military men were cleared after security charges had been filed by the Air Force. There were no such actions in 1951-52.

5. In the first two months of this year, 16 security cases were disposed of—more than during all of 1951 and 1952. In these 1955 cases, 6 were discharged, 1 was cleared and 9 were separated from the service prior to completion of their security cases.

These figures were given Congress March 24, after some questioning by committee members, by Maj. Gen. J. F. Carroll, director of special investigations for the Air Force.

Carroll said none of those discharged were spies or saboteurs.

Homemade Sailboat Capsizes, 2 Drown

TROUT LAKE, Mich. (U)—Lorne Peake, 14, and Melvin Barrett, 10, of Trout Lake, drowned yesterday in nearby Frenchman's Lake after a small capsized their homemade sailboat.

Twining testified that in the last four years the Communists "have created a whole new air force in Red China and have made it the fourth most powerful air force in the world."

Apparently the others are the United States, the Soviet Union and Great Britain.

The buildup, he said, is continuing and "includes many jet aircraft."

He said the U.S. Air Force is continuing "important studies" to develop a hard-hitting, self-protective combination of fighters and light bombers, capable of delivering tactical, or close-range, nuclear weapons.

"We already have units of this type in position overseas," he said, and "we will continue to improve and organize additional tactical atomic forces."

N.Y. Police Arrest 337 'Undesirables'

NEW YORK (U)—The seventh weekend of the 1955 police drive to rid Manhattan streets of "undesirables" produced 337 arrests. The record number of arrests this year was set in the fifth weekend when 433 persons were picked up.

Many of those arrested Friday, Saturday and yesterday were sentenced to jail or fined in night court. Among the charges were disorderly conduct, begging, vagrancy and degeneracy.

day announced the smashing of a large scale cigarette smuggling ring at Ulm. The customs agents said 5,000 cartons of American cigarettes had been illegally sold at a big firm at Ulm the past year.

Arrest Made in Knife Slaying of 3

SAN JUAN, P. R. (U)—A 40-year-old man was arrested yesterday in connection with the knife slaying of a Brooklyn couple and their 3-year old son.

The man, wanted by the New York police, was identified as Gustavo Diaz Gonzales. Island police said he admitted killing Mrs. Rosa Ortiz Grancitano, 40, but denied slaying her husband Peter, 40, and their son Peter Jr.

Police quoted him as saying Mrs. Grancitano had killed the other two before he entered the couple's Brooklyn apartment. Gonzales said he killed Mrs. Grancitano after she went at him with a knife, police said.

A moderate decrease in automobile accidents was reported in 1954.

Publishers Backing Ike On Formosa

NEW YORK — A number of the nation's leading publishers interviewed here yesterday say they have faith in President Eisenhower's handling of the Formosa crisis.

The publishers also said they believe the United States should not become involved in a war over the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu. Some publishers, however, advised a "tough stand" on the issue.

A majority of the publishers said they favor talks with the Chinese Communists on the Far Eastern crisis but advised caution.

The publishers were interviewed by the New York Times and the New York Herald Tribune as they arrived for Newspaper Week, which opens today.

Most of the publishers reported a continuing popularity of President Eisenhower in their respective areas and a healthy economic picture.

Most of the publishers interviewed on the issue felt that former President Truman's remark that the press had given the Eisenhower administration a "cloak of protection" was without basis.

CONFIRMATIONS AT PEPIN

PEPIN, Wis. (Special) — Thirteen children made their confirmation vows last Sunday morning at the Immanuel Lutheran Church. Among the confirmands were three from the Little Plum Lutheran Church: Eunice Anderson, Nancy Jahnke and Barbara Olson. From Immanuel were Carol Sue Breitung, Jeanne Byington, Beverly Compton, Judith Jahnke, Bary Kircher, Carol Milliren, Jean Milliren, Virginia Myers, Betty Seipel and Janice Seyffer.

Before 1945, less than $1,000,000 a year was spent for cancer research. Since then the American Cancer Society alone has devoted about $35,000,000 to that work.

Sparkman Asks U.S. Try for Formosa Peace

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) proposed today that the United States test the sincerity of Red China peace talk by seeking to renew United Nations efforts to gain a cease-fire in the Formosa area.

Sparkman and some other members of Congress lined up behind the State Department's suggestion that the Chinese Communists demonstrate their good intentions to negotiate.

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai said at the Asian-African conference in Bandung, Indonesia, that Peiping wanted no war and was willing to talk with the United States about relaxing Far East tensions, particularly around Formosa.

In a follow-up talk at yesterday's closing session, Chou said Peiping will not give up the "sovereign right" to liberate Formosa. But he said "China and the United States should sit down and ease tension in the Taiwan (Formosa) area."

Legal Status
The legal status of Formosa is uncertain. China yielded her rights in the island to Japan at the end of the Sino-Japanese War in 1895. In the Japanese Peace Treaty ending the Pacific phase of World War II, Japan surrendered her rights to Formosa. Peiping contends the Nationalist-held island is rightfully a part of China.

Sparkman, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he supports the State Department's position that "of course the United States would insist on free (Nationalist) China's participation as an equal in any discussion concerning the area."

That position was set forth in a statement made public Saturday afternoon after department officials had conferred at length by telephone with President Eisenhower. He spent the weekend at Gettysburg, Pa., returning last night.

Proof Sought
The department said Red China could show in three ways evidence that it would enter such talks with good intentions: (1) Agree to an immediate cease-fire in the Formosa Strait, (2) release imprisoned American airmen and civilians or (3) accept the U.N. Security Council's invitation to discuss the end of hostilities in the Formosa area.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said this country should accept Chou's offer of peace talks. "I unhesitatingly say that this nation should be big enough and great enough through its high officials to sit down and talk," he told the American Society of Newspaper Editors Saturday night.

"It is time that we should relieve the tensions of this world if we can. . . . We ought to be willing to talk with the Chinese People's Republic and their leaders, because we have a high obligation to all men everywhere . . . and out of that conference may come, not a final solution, but a step—and perhaps a great step—to a solution of our problems."

Kellogg Driver Pays Fine of $25

ALMA, Wis. — John Wills, 39, Kellogg, Minn., changed an earlier plea of not guilty to guilty to a charge of careless driving in justice court here Saturday morning and paid a $25 fine and costs.

He was charged in connection with an accident March 27 four miles south of here. His car left Highway 35 and crashed in a swamp near the Mosman Tavern. Wills suffered a fractured lower left leg and a sprained right knee.

Justice of the Peace Donald Ruben heard the case. Wills pleaded not guilty before Ruben April 18.

Air Force Concerned About Auto Accidents

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has expressed "serious concern" about accidents—auto accidents.

In a report to a House Appropriations subcommittee, released today, the Air Force said its men have about five times as many auto accidents as airplane accidents.

In 1954 there were 757 fatalities from airplane accidents and 608 from auto crashes. But 5,324 military personnel were injured in auto accidents, compared with 529 in planes. Altogether there were 6,460 auto accidents, 1,326 airplane crashes.

WORLD'S LARGEST HOME TREATMENT FIRM TELLS TRUTH ABOUT HAIR AND SCALP

"SOME OLDER METHODS ARE GOOD BUT OURS WILL DO WHAT WE SAY"—OCHS

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Winona, Minn., Wednesday only, April 27, 1953. The private individual demonstrations will be held at the Winona Hotel on Wednesday only, April 27, 2 P.M. til 9 P.M.

OKLAHOMA CITY — April 24 — In an interview here today R. W. Ochs, internationally famous Hair and Scalp Consultant and director of The House of Winston, said: "There are 23 common hair and scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

DOUBLE GUARANTEE
"The Winston firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offers this guarantee," Ochs said.

Once a person avails themselves to the Winston treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, Winston offers two guarantees. "First, if you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress in the very first 30 days after enrollment your money will be returned. Second, The House of Winston also guarantees complete satisfaction at the end of treatment, regardless of conditions," Ochs emphasized.

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the Winston consultants are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Winston firm can perform wonders.

Everyone is given a complete, private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATIONS
This examination is very thorough and highly technical. It requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, he makes regular reports to the Winston firm in Oklahoma City, and a consultant will return to check his progress periodically.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, the Winston firm is sending specialists to various cities throughout the United States to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE-ALL
"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Ochs emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Ochs wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME
"If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Ochs said. "Our firm is definitely behind this treatment, and offers a lifetime guarantee, it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR?
If it worries you call Consultant B. H. Simpson at the Winona Hotel in Winona, Minn., on Wednesday only, April 27, 2 P.M. til 9 P.M.

The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

$6.5 Billions for Interest On the National Debt

Those economic balloonists who think that the national debt can go ever-higher without endangering or burdening the taxpayer and the U. S. economy should be interested in these notes from the eighth edition of "Facts and Figures on Government Finance":

$6.5 billions for interest on the national debt.

$4.3 billions for veterans services and benefits.

$2.6 billions for agriculture and agricultural resources.

$2 billions for social security, welfare, and health.

$1.8 billion for transportation and communication.

$1.7 billion for international affairs and finance.

And the bigger that national debt is allowed to grow, the heavier is that charge for interest on it.

Spirit of Nazis Living in South Africa

Hitler is not dead. At least his spirit is living and active in South Africa. There the Strijdom government is carrying out Hitler's ideas of racial supremacy, and trying to reduce the native population to virtual servitude. Now it is copying another of Hitler's tyrannical measures.

A bill on its way through Parliament would permit policemen to enter homes without a warrant or even an order from superior officers. Another would forbid any citizen to leave the country without a passport.

The first is obviously a step toward a police state. The second aims to prevent South Africans from telling the outside world of the kind of government that is being set up.

The rigid, conservative South African Boers would not like to be told that they resemble Fascists. But the measures which they are instituting are like nothing so much as those which prevailed in Nazi Germany.

Now It's Up To the Courts

Minnesota has taken the lead in a determined effort to keep irresponsible automobile drivers from endangering the lives and property of others. It is a law, now in effect, which gives courts authority to impound the license plates and registration card of any motorist who drives after his license has been revoked for traffic law violation.

People who drive their cars after revocation of license are dangerous in the extreme. They fear detection, hence will not halt for any accident, minor or otherwise and oftentimes stage dangerous races with pursuing officers because they dare not face up to a charge of driving after revocation. Without license plates such a one would hardly dare go out into traffic. He'd be spotted too soon. And if he drives another's car the owner of that machine faces loss of license plates and registration card also.

In theory it appears to be almost a fool-proof law, but perhaps we'd better wait to see how it works in practice. Which won't be long. Already a Minneapolis judge has taken away the licenses and cards of several drivers and promises the same treatment to any others that come before him.

But unless all courts and judges crack down under the new law it won't be very effective. And it probably will develop that influence and hardship pleas will soften the punishment meted out by some judges. But the law gives the courts an effective weapon to use against those who persist in driving after their licenses have been revoked. Now it's up to the judges to administer the same without fear, favor or influence.—Red Wing Republican-Eagle.

Labor Men Shy From Own Party

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

NEW YORK — A person is called a reactionary who moves within the traditions of American life and history. The definition is my own but the facts behind it are demonstrable. I take the following from a statement made by Louis Hollander, President of the New York State CIO, who said:

"I believe we can force the reactionaries of both old parties to form their own third party. Then labor can sit down and rebuild one of the two remaining parties, supporting the liberals who stay on."

Hollander happened to say this because someone else, at the particular meeting he was addressing, had suggested that labor form its own party which would seem to be the logical and honest way of going about it if anyone desired a third party.

UNDER THE TUTELAGE of the ADA, however, some labor leaders, socialists, ancient New Dealers and forensic Republicans have concluded that the best way to walk off with another man's possessions is to go into his home and take over. Why bother to form a third party when it is possible by infiltration to steal both the Republican and Democratic parties?

The question then arises as to whether it can be done. In New York State, the ADA has more or less been pushed out of the Democratic party. Neither Governor Averell Harriman nor Carmine Desapio, who runs Democratic politics, will have anything to do with this amalgam of people on the left. On the other hand, the Republican party in this great state is not so resistant to the A.D.A. because being out of power is very unpleasant after so long a period in office and maybe with a little assistance the Republicans can get somewhere.

Besides, the only Republican elected last year, the Attorney-General, Jacob Javits, is on the untraditional side and nobody will call him a reactionary, no matter what else he might call him. In fact, if Hollander's friends manage to infiltrate and capture the Republican party in New York, it would not be necessary for Javits to leave it, no matter what unseemly company he would be forced to keep.

ACTUALLY NONE OF THIS is likely to happen on a national scale in the near future but it does indicate a manner of mind. The A.D.A. has sought to be a balance of power among the Democrats and has only failed because of a Southern repugnance for Socialists which may be overcome, in due course, as the industrialization of the South proceeds.

Among the Republicans, these days, the only fixed principle is that President Eisenhower is a great and popular man who cannot be defeated in 1956. Apart from that, the party in power, as it were, views life and events pragmatically, hoping that more credits will be gained than minus and that in due course everything will work out well enough, although in these muddled times no one can look forward to perfection. Republicans generally accept it as an inviolable truth that Eisenhower cannot be defeated in 1956 no matter who runs against him and that no other Republican can be elected.

The theft of a political party by infiltration, two of them, as Hollander advocates, is only possible because of the debasement of public morals. In Hollander's circles, it would be called "chutzpa," which may be defined as aggressive, devil-may-care impudence and sometimes even impudence. And it is even possible that to one who can be guilty of "chutzpa" go the spoils because other men, less forward, shun the battle and give the field.

If political parties were membership organizations in the United States, as they are in Great Britain, capture of the party by infiltration would not be so likely and probably impossible. In Great Britain it is not within reason to conceive of a group of men banding together to capture both the Conservative and Labour parties and offering Air Anthony Eden and Clement Attlee the choice of organizing a third party. If nothing else, public morals would be outraged by such a thought.

Yet in the United States not only is the A.D.A. seeking to do exactly that but Mr. Hollander and the boasts of it and offers it as a program. And the reason anyone dares do it is that both parties have become mostly vehicles for election, not agencies for the struggle over public principle.

Aid to Nation's Children Would Be Gift to Dr. Salk

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—A lot of people have been writing me suggesting a reward to Dr. Jonas Salk—a big cash gift to the man who found the way to stop that dread baby-killer, polio. Some readers even sent checks for me to forward to Dr. Salk.

So the other day I called him up. I had never met Dr. Salk, though I knew his background. He's a man who might not have been able to discover the vaccine for polio had the McCarran-Walter immigration act then been on the books. His folks were Jewish immigrants, his father a garment worker living in New York's teeming mid-Manhattan. He graduated from the City College of New York which Joe McCarthy branded a breeder of Communism.

I found Dr. Salk, as I suspected, a humble man. He was not interested in money for himself, nor publicity. Like another great discoverer of his faith who died the other day, Albert Einstein, he shunned interviews.

But he was interested and concerned that the children who now have a chance to get the protection of his vaccine should all definitely get it. And the tragedy is that under present circumstances, all of them won't.

This is partly because there is not yet full vaccine production—though there will be soon. It's also because the March of Dimes—the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis—which has done such a stupendous job of battling polio through the years didn't reach its goal this year. On the eve of a great triumph, the contributing public fell short.

Dr. Salk indicated that if anyone deserved reward for the long years of battling polio, it was Basil O'Connor, head of the polio foundation, and the thousands of tireless workers who have so patiently raised money to help his research and the children already stricken with polio.

It's partly also because the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington, Mrs. Hobby's department—was slow in acting to guarantee a fair distribution of the serum. More on this later.

Basically, however, the problem is money.

Salk's Greatest Reward

Real fact is that the National Polio Foundation, which is supplying the vaccine for all children in the first and second grades, will need around $11,000,000 to pay for this vaccine. Its credit is excellent and it is courageously going ahead. But all of that money is not yet raised.

Furthermore, even this generous contribution to the inoculation of the nation's children will cover only the first and second grades, plus the children who participated in the field trials last year and who will get a booster shot.

This leaves out the kindergarten group, one of the most dangerous ages. And it leaves out the third and fourth grades, also dangerous.

Actually the most dangerous polio ages are from birth to nine years, though the danger comes right up to 20. Franklin Roosevelt, the man who inspired the polio foundation, was stricken at the age of 39.

To inoculate the 60,000,000 children between birth and the age of 20, which eventually should be done, would require $120,000,000. Yet the polio foundation will have a hard time finding the money for the first and second grades; which still omits the kindergarten ages, pre-school ages and higher primary grade children just as we enter the dread polio season.

So I would like to suggest to those who want to reward Dr. Salk that his greatest reward would be to see the widest possible use of his serum this spring and summer. And that if the patriotic service clubs and organizations of the U. S.—Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Junior Chambers of Com-

Adventurer Says Years Don't Count

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — "People count themselves to death in this life," said Louis L'Amour, declining to give his age.

With L'Amour, one of America's most prolific adventure writers, keeping his age to himself isn't a matter of vanity. It's a philosophy. "It isn't the number of years you've lived that's important," he said. "It's a mistake to measure living in terms of years. It's how you've spent the years that puts real meaning into existence."

Judged by most standards, L'Amour has had enough experiences to last the ordinary man through several reincarnations. The average adventure writer is a swivel chair dreamer who would think twice before picking a quarrel with his dentist. L'Amour not only looks like the adventure hero he writes about—he probably could whip one of his own heroes in a fight with either fist or gun.

The big 6-foot-11 inch author weighs 200 and is a judo expert as well as an authority on a desert or jungle survival. He has been a sailor, a miner, a hobo, a professional boxer—he won 54 bouts, lost 5—and an antitank combat officer in World War II.

Circus Adventurer

At 15 he left his home in Jamestown, N.D., and joined a circus as the first step in a search for adventure that has carried him to almost every place in the world.

"Even then I knew I wanted to write," he recalled. "But I figured I could learn more out of school than in it. I felt I had to see life before I could write about it."

L'Amour educated himself by constant reading during his years of wandering in distant places. Slowly and painfully he also taught himself to write.

"I had 200 stories rejected before I sold my first one for $10," he recalled.

His career has now reached the jackpot stage. He has published more than 400 short stories, turned out half a dozen adventure novels, including "Hondo," made into a movie starring John Wayne, to whom he bears a strong physical resemblance. Recently he sold a magazine serial for $15,000, sat down and wrote another book, "We Shape the Land," in 55 hours at the typewriter in 5 days.

5 Million Words

"Usually I don't write that fast," he said. "But writing comes easy to me. I have written about five million words. Usually I write 4 hours every morning every day in the week, and turn out about 10 pages a day."

"It makes no difference how I feel. If you feel bad, writing helps take your mind off your troubles. It doesn't make you feel any better to sit still and do nothing."

L'Amour, who never has smoked, eats candy or chews gum while he writes, and says he can write anywhere—on trains or planes, in crowded restaurants.

"The only thing that bothers me is dead silence," he said. "Some time ago I read an ad in a Holly-wood paper by a writer who wanted a woman to come and merely make homey noises around the house while he worked. I can understand that. Any kind of sound is better than none when you're writing."

L'Amour, a bachelor, lives now in a midtown hotel and is about ready for man's most enduring adventure—matrimony—if he can find the right girl.

He is a specialist on Western lore, but his hobby is the study of survival.

"If you know plants, you can go alone into a desert or jungle and find enough food and water to keep

Changes Asked in Charter of U.N.

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — People with a desire to change things or let them alone—in this case the United States Constitution and the United Nations Charter—have plenty of chance in 1955 to let off steam.

In the end, probably neither document will be changed. Once more Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) urges the Constitution be amended to limit a President's treaty-making power. Under the Constitution as it stands the Senate can block any treaty made by a president.

Nevertheless Bricker and his followers argue that somehow, someday, a treaty which gets by the Senate will do grave damage by signing away American rights, particularly states' rights.

Many Senate committee hearings on Bricker's proposal have been held in the past. Last year the Senate was tied in knots for weeks with debate on an amendment. Bricker has a lot of support.

He also has a lot of opposition, particularly from President Eisenhower. Last year Bricker's rigid ideas were melted down into a mild substitute amendment offered by Sen. George (D-Ga.).

In the Senate vote even this was defeated but by a narrow squeak. The vote was 60-31, one vote less than needed to approve it. Any constitutional amendment requires a two-thirds vote of Senate and House plus approval by three-fourths of the states. So even if it had sequestered through the Senate it might have been defeated elsewhere.

Bricker does not give up easily. He's back again, demanding another vote this year. A Senate subcommittee begins hearings on his proposal this week. But Bricker's chances look poorer this year than last.

In the fall of 1955 the United Nations will decide whether to hold a conference on changing its charter which by then will be 10 years old.

Kipp said that at this time two tentative locations are being considered for the span—one at the foot of Broad street and the other near the present bridge.

Lower Clearance
The Broad street location, he said, would require lowering the vertical distance of the bridge from the river level a distance of from eight to 10 feet. Whether or not U. S. engineers, who have jurisdiction in the matter, would approve a bridge of that clearance is conjectural, he said.

The approach to the new bridge from the Wisconsin side would also be relocated, he said. This separate project would probably call for a series of bridges and fills across portions of Mud Lake, he said.

Preliminary work on drawing plans and making surveys will probably start this summer.

Federal Aid
Federal aid would be available for the project, Kipp said, although no special allocation from the government will be available. The state receives a lump sum as federal aid for highways and bridges and the state department uses its own discretion in making allocations—with the approval of the federal bureau of highways.

Passage of the $20,000,000 bond issue brings a new bridge at Red Wing closer to reality by probably 10 years or more.

The bonds will be paid by a five per cent increase in auto licenses.

The Chamber of Commerce highway committee has slated a meeting this afternoon at which the Red Wing bridge will be discussed and plans considered for the committee's role in speeding the project.

Trial of Accused Bomb Slayer May Face Postponement

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—Harry L. Washburn, accused of killing his rich former mother-in-law, was supposed to go on trial for murder today. But a district attorney's office and a girl's reported pregnancy may postpone the case.

Washburn, 38, a Houston contractor, is charged with rigging a car bomb that killed Mrs. Helen Weaver, 51, here last Jan. 19.

Officers said the dynamite bomb was intended for her husband Harry E. Weaver, 60, an architect and nonsalaried consultant for the Navy Public Works Department.

A hearing on a state motion for postponement was scheduled today.

Dist. Atty. Aubrey Stokes, who leads the prosecution, collapsed and was hospitalized last night for treatment of a stomach ulcer. A doctor said Stokes "would be laid up for awhile."

Saturday, Stokes asked postponement on grounds a key state witness, Mrs. Adela Heninger, couldn't travel here from East

More 'Sabotage' Reported in South

ATLANTA (AP)—A new wave of cable cuttings and the knocking out of a railroad bridge by fire were reported as regional telephone and railroad strikes entered their 43rd day today.

The violence climaxed a week-end marked by mob rowdiness in Florida, derailment of a freight train in Kentucky and the failure of three governors to settle the phone strike at an Atlanta conference.

The slashing of cables in Mobile and Montgomery temporarily disrupted service to thousands of Southern Bell Telephone Co. customers in Alabama. One Montgomery radio station was off the air several hours.

A 104-foot section of a Louisville & Nashville Railroad bridge six miles east of Calera, Ala., was so badly damaged by fire it will have to be rebuilt. F. W. Kirchner, L&N division superintendent, estimated damage at $150,000 and said he believed the blaze was of incendiary origin.

Kentucky state police said 25 sticks of dynamite were found attached to an L&N bridge at Washington, near Pineville, Ky. Trooper Robert Rose said the dynamite was in a paper shopping bag and was rigged so it could be exploded electrically.

At Washington, L&N company and union representatives met four hours with the National Mediation Board but no change in the situation was reported.

Gov. Lawrence Wetherby of Kentucky asked the 13 governors of the states affected by the L&N walkout to meet in Nashville Tuesday with company and union representatives in a new effort to reach agreement.

Seven men were arrested on disorderly conduct charges at Miami, Fla., when 40 policemen and firemen broke up a noisy crowd of about 500 outside the main telephone exchange. Hoses were turned on the crowd and union leaders protested the action as unnecessary.

Police Question Former Suitor in Bludgeoning Slaying

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP)—A man described by police as a former suitor was questioned early today in the bludgeoning slaying of Miss Elizabeth Dose, 29, a pretty Beth Israel Hospital nurse.

Police took the man into custody for extensive questioning after he and four other male friends of the victim underwent lie detector and chemical tests.

Police said the man reacted to the lie detector test and chemical tests showed that blood might have come in contact with one of his cheeks.

During a break in the questioning, police said the man admitted he had a key to Miss Dose's apartment.

The man who killed the attractive nurse by striking her on the head with a heavy weapon tried to cover up his crime by setting fire to the bed on which she lay. A medical examination showed she was clubbed to death.

Police said a Cambridge man informed them he and Miss Dose had a date Friday night and that they both returned to her apartment.

He was quoted as saying that Miss Dose changed into a robe and had coffee with him before he left about 12:30 a. m. Saturday. The killer apparently entered the apartment after he left.

About four hours later three other tenants of the apartment house smelled smoke and together they broke into Miss Dose's kitchenette apartment and discovered her body on the burning bed.

Police said she had not been sexually attacked and that robbery was not the motive.

Miss Dose came here about 18 months ago. She was a graduate of Mercy College of Nursing, San Diego, Calif., in the class of 1950.

Optometrists Hold St. Paul Conclave

Three Winona optometrists, as well as a number of other South-eastern Minnesota optometrists, are in St. Paul for the annual meeting of the Minnesota Optometric Association.

The convention, which began Sunday, continues through Tuesday.

Attending from Winona are Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Large, Dr. and Mrs.

C. R. Kollofeki and Dr. and Mrs. M. L. DeBolt.

Dr. K. G. Dunwell, PRESTON optometrist, state chairman of the committee on visual problems in schools, reported on the work of the committee to the convention.

"An observant teacher with her school records of the child's performance plus the regular visual tests in the classroom is an effective means of detecting the visual handicaps of students," Dr. Dunwell said. "Any child showing such symptoms as holding reading closer than normal, frowning, excessive blinking, squinting or losing place while reading should be referred for visual care."

One of the goals of the meeting is an attempt to stress the fact that inadequate vision still ranks high as a cause for many highway accidents. Dr. Leo A. Meyer, St. Paul, president of the Minnesota Optometric Association, points out that "deaths from heart disease and cancer are the only two great killers in our state."

Saturday is the most dangerous day of the week to drive.

One of her sponsoring organizations in this country is the AAUW, sister organization to the University Women's organization in Florence, Italy, of which she is vice president.

Miss Teresa students was Miss Madeline Cheng, Formosa, an elementary major at the college.

Miss Cheng told the group that her great desire is to help the children of her country and she thought she could best do this through teaching. She told of her childhood on the China mainland where she was born, of the struggles during the war and her flight with her family to Formosa.

She in turn introduced Miss Tran Thi Dinh, Viet Nam, Indochina, also an elementary major at the college. The latter described briefly for her audience the educational system of her country, told of her growing appreciation and understanding of other countries through her contacts with the people of these lands, and of her certainty that the exchange student plan is one of the things that will help world understanding.

"The only way to understand other countries," she said, "is to get acquainted with the people. You like people only when you understand them—how they think, what they feel, why they act as they do."

She commented on how much more she now understands America and Americans and promised to do her best to help her countrymen gain some of this understanding when she returns.

Native dances from two countries were presented during the afternoon by the girls from Colombia.

1,300 Jackson Co. Children Attend Festival at BRF

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis. (Special)—Children of all Jackson County school grades four to eight participated in the spring radio festival at the high school auditorium here Friday afternoon.

Professor Edgar B. Gordon, whose Journeys in Musicland program had been on the state radio network 24 years, and James Schwalback, director of the Let's Draw program over the same network, held the session for 1,300 children.

Miss Mae Hardie, county superintendent of schools, who was in charge of the program, stated that children from Hixton, Melrose, Alma Center, Taylor, and Black River Falls districts were transported here by school bus.

For most of the youngsters, it was their first meeting with the men who bring art and music into the classroom by radio. Many of the children have been awarded special mention for their art work and were introduced.

He showed colored slides of the various types of art work which have been submitted by children as a result of his program. The drawings were done in water color, crayon, chalk and finger paints on special subjects suggested in the radio class. Blindfold drawings as well as subjects suggested by music also were displayed.

6 Die in State Auto Accidents Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three young Minnesotans attended a dance and were returning to Grand Rapids for a Saturday night movie when their car struck a large post. Two were killed.

Three other young people attended a wedding dance at Bixby and were on their way home to Austin when their car and another collided. One of the youths and the driver of the second car died.

The two double fatality accidents and two other accidents, each claiming one victim, killed six persons in Minnesota over the weekend. The mishaps raised the state's 1953 traffic toll to 143, compared with 179 during the same period last year.

Gerald Benson, 19, was killed instantly in the one-car accident 15 miles west of Grand Rapids. Dorothy Lehman, 17, was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Nancy Lehman, 24, Dorothy's sister, was hospitalized in fair condition.

A deputy sheriff said the car failed to turn at a "T" intersection of a gravel road and a hard-surfaced highway. The vehicle shot across the pavement and struck the post.

Austin Girl Killed
Sherilyn Tesch, 19, Austin, died in St. Olaf's Hospital at Austin Sunday morning of injuries suffered in the collision which happened as she returned from the dance at Bixby, about 40 miles from Austin.

Clarence Verplank, 50, Ellendale, driver of the second car, died minutes after the crash.

The two companions of Miss Tesch were hospitalized. Leslie L. Newman, 26, rural Austin, was in fair condition with a skull fracture.

Patricia McClelland, 17, was in poor condition with both legs fractured and a broken collarbone.

Sheriff Albert Reinartz said it was not determined which of the three youths was driving the car which collided with Verplank's.

John A. Kalina, 25, Lakeville, Minn., was fatally injured when his convertible overturned in a ditch four miles south of Bloomington Sunday morning. He and a passenger, Donald Tonsager, 23, also of Lakeville, were hurled from the car.

Tonsager was hospitalized at Farmington with head and chest injuries.

Arthur Skime, 28, International Falls, was fatally injured Saturday in a head-on collision a mile west of International Falls. He died about six hours after the accident.

Five International Falls youths in the other car, driven by David Trach, 20, suffered minor injuries.

Wisconsin Accidents
Weekend accidents in Wisconsin, occurring mostly on highways, have taken ten lives.

Henry Frederick, 48, of New London, was killed Sunday when a 3-ton rock on his lawn toppled upon him as he was digging a deeper hole nearby in order to bury it.

George Davis, 66, Richland Center, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision near Muscoda, Grant county. Mrs. Morris Tesky, 31, of Pewaukee, was injured seriously when the car driven by her husband collided with the one in which Davis was riding.

Frank Gander, 72, of Sparta, and his 70-year-old sister, Mrs. Laura

12 U.S. Veterans Hope to Attend Meet in Moscow

WASHINGTON (AP)—If they can get passports and money, 12 American World War II veterans hope to go to Moscow for a celebration of the meeting of U.S. and Soviet troops at the Elbe River in Germany 10 years ago.

The 12 members of a group calling themselves the American Veterans of the Elbe River Linkup, accepted a Russian invitation yesterday in a cable saying without qualification that "we will leave for Moscow in a few days."

But Joseph Polowsky, of Chicago, secretary of the group, conceded that funds must be raised to finance the trip, although he said, "We'll try to figure out something."

There was no official indication what attitude the State Department might take when the men apply for passports.

Sharp Rebuff To Adenauer in Election Count

HANNOVER, Germany (AP)—Final returns today from legislative elections here in West Germany's third largest state, handed Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's pro-American foreign policy a sharp rebuff.

The anti-American Socialists, who have governed the state of Lower Saxony since the war, ran far ahead of Adenauer's Christian Democrats in voting yesterday for a new 161-member state parliament.

The Socialists polled 1,182,065 votes (35.2 per cent of the total) to elect 59 deputies, while the Christian Democrats won 43 seats with a total vote of 893,917.

Six other parties won seats: The right-wing German party (DP) 20; the Refugee party (BHE) 18; Free Democrats (FDP) 12; Nazi-like German Reichs party 6; Communists 2; and Centrist party 1.

Despite the prestige defeat for Adenauer, the lack of a Socialist majority raised the possibility that the Chancellor's backers might supplant the Socialist regime. Heinrich Hellwege, national chairman of the German party, called today for a 93-vote rightist coalition of the Christian Democrats, the Free Democrats, the Refugees and his own party. All four are partners in Adenauer's federal government.

The key to such a grouping appeared to be the Refugee party, which for the past four years has been allied with the Socialists in the state government. There was no immediate indication how the Refugees would react to Hellwege's proposal.

The previous State Parliament had 153 members. They included 55 Socialists, 44 Christian Democrats and members of the German party, 23 Refugees, 16 Free Democrats, 2 Communists and 13 representatives of splinter factions.

Control of Lower Saxony is vital to Adenauer's plans for rearmament.

The Casual Observer

By GRETCHEN L. LAMBERTON

THE other day I stopped at the College of Saint Teresa to see the Pan American exhibit. There were brilliant hand-woven scarves, pictures and maps, dolls, tiny blown glass birds and animals, silver jewelry, buttons and miniature vases carved out of "vegetable ivory" (tagua palm nuts, out of which many U.S. military buttons are made), song books and South American records, fans, purses and all manner of unusual articles. Some were lent by the South American girls attending Saint Teresa; some were souvenirs brought back last January by Sister Helen on her return from Colombia where she spent a year on an exchange fellowship.

Sister Helen, very small, slender and gentle, told me a little about her year. First she visited Mexico and the great new National University of Mexico with its extraordinary modern buildings that make such fascinating use of ancient Mexican art. Then in Colombia for 11 months she taught English at the University of the Andes and also at the very old Javeriana University founded by Jesuit fathers. She also traveled all over Colombia and spoke at many different schools and universities, mostly on life in the U.S.

Sister Helen, "The U.S. is so very rich and powerful."

and sometimes not exactly modest about it—that people in South America are inclined to resent us. If only they could get to understand us better! It's so important that we keep on exchanging students with other countries and get to know and appreciate each other's way of life."

She introduced me to several very attractive and beautifully mannered girls from Colombia, and all told me how happy and interested they are here. All are working very hard to perfect their English. One dark, sparkling girl, Celia Uribe from Bogota, went with Sister Helen and me to the coffee shop for coffee and cinnamon rolls.

"In Bogota Celia and I studied Spanish and English together every day," said Sister Helen. "Now she is giving me splendid help in teaching my Spanish classes at Saint Teresa."

She and Celia evolved a very successful teaching technique in which Sister Helen would give the class a sentence with its grammar analyzed, then Celia would repeat it and the class would say it after her. Then she would repeat it faster and faster with the students keeping up with her, until they had the sentence perfectly in the tempo and inflection in which they would hear it in a foreign country. This "oral" or "aural" method works wonderfully in giving a student an easy conversation grasp. After Sister Helen had worked out this method she read in a New York paper that much the same idea is being tried out in the east.

The College of Saint Teresa has worked out an interesting special program for foreign students attending the college—and they have students from all over the globe. To fit their special needs these students take three hours a day of special classes in English and have special work in typing and American dietetics and gymnasium. "In this way they not only learn our language well but they take back home with them new and valuable ideas about nutrition, dietetics and other worthwhile American institutions."

Sister Helen had to leave for one of her Spanish classes, and Celia looked after her smiling and said, "Ah, that little Sister Helen—she spoke at meetings all over Colombia, in perfect Spanish too, and always when she spoke she left such good will and friendliness!"

Celia whose father is a distinguished composer and musician taught music at a college presided over by her sister. When Celia finished school she had the honor of becoming secretary to the governor of the district of Atlantico. Now she wants to stay in this country until she had perfected her English to the point where she can teach it in South America. She is especially thrilled by our change in seasons.

"We have no change in seasons in Colombia—always warm weather and a rainy season in stead of winter. But your deep snow and now the green grass and flowers—that is beautiful, exciting! Winona is very beautiful!" she said.

BEDTIME STORIES

By HOWARD GARIS

Uncle Wiggly's Amusement Raft was sailing across Frog Pond. The raft had been caught on a rock that was thrust up from the bottom of the pond, close to the top of the water. With the help of Bully and Bawly No Tail, the frogs, and Grandpa Whackum and other beavers, the point of the rock had been broken off and the raft was free to move again.

Uncle Wiggly's raft was sailing on a weekend voyage, just for fun and adventures. Later on when summer came and there was a long vacation from school, Mr. Longears planned to take the animal boys and girls of Woodland on a voyage of adventure that would last several weeks.

"Avast and belay, Cap'n Wiggly, sir!" barked Bosun, the jolly old sea dog. "Did I hear you say, now that we are loose from the rock, we are going to Puppy Dog Island?"

"That's what I said, Bosun," answered the rabbit gentleman.

"Well, shiver my collar and necktie! I think that will be a lot of fun for the boys and girls!"

"I hope so, Bosun. Some of them—the younger rabbits—have never been on Puppy Dog Island in Frog Pond."

"We had some good times there the last time we tied up at that island, Cap'n Wiggly," barked Bosun. "I wonder if they still have the same kind that treated us so royally."

"I don't know, Bosun. I suppose that dog kings, like other kings, change from time to time," replied Uncle Wiggly. "Anyhow, we are now headed for Puppy Dog Island. What is Pat Butter doing, Bosun?"

"He seems to be eating a new piece of Swiss cheese, Cap'n Wiggly."

"Well, that's all right, as long as he doesn't start the Merry-Go-Round whizzing so fast that it bounces off some of the wooden animals."

"No, Cap'n Wiggly, sir! Mr. Butter seems only trying to find the largest holes in his piece of Swiss cheese. He seems to like to eat the holes first," barked Bosun.

"Yes, Pat Butter surely is a funny goat," said Uncle Wiggly. "Are we headed on the right course for Puppy Dog Island?"

McCarthy Calls For Ultimatum on Captive Americans

WEST BEND, Wis. (AP)—"We should tear a page from the book of Teddy Roosevelt and say to these Chinese Reds: 'Give us back those boys immediately or every Communist will be wiped from the face of the earth.'" Sen. McCarthy said Saturday night.

Speaking to about 500 persons at a Veterans' Day dinner, the Wisconsin Republican declared that within the past ten days "there was a meeting in Washington attended by ranking officials of the State Department, Air Force, Army, Navy and Marine Corps at which it was admitted there are 481 uniformed Americans still being held and brain washed by the Communist China Reds."

"We are doing nothing about it," McCarthy declared. "For the first time in history our commander-in-chief has abandoned uniformed men to the enemy."

Arcadia Council In Reorganization

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special)—Standing committees were appointed by Mayor Omer Schroeder at the reorganization meeting of the City Council Tuesday.

Re-elected president was Orvin Angst. Arnold Dietrich was reappointed night policeman; Clarence C. Fugina, city attorney; Bernard Kubis and Glenn Forsyth, dance inspectors and Henry Vogel, LaVerne Kostner and William Cash, pool committee. The Arcadia News Leader was designated as the official city newspaper and the State Bank of Arcadia as the depository for funds.

Arthur Zastrow was hired as street commissioner and day policeman and Nick Kontar was appointed city health officer. Re-elected to the city planning commission were: A. C. Schultz and Harry Trowbridge, one-year terms; Redmond English, citizen member, three-year term and Edward Berzinski, council representative, one-year term.

City Election Board
Albert Rohn was named a new member of the city election board succeeding Mrs. Wilma Studt, who resigned. All other members were reappointed. They are: Mrs. Norbert Petting, Mrs. Orvin Angst, Mrs. Alphonse Stencil, Mrs. Charles Brogan, Mrs. Lewis Kreid and Mrs. Lietta Gage.

Salaries of city employees will remain the same. There was a deficit of a little over $1,000 in operation of the swimming pool last year, and councilmen will recommend to the committee that swimming charges be raised slightly. Building permits were granted to Miss Julia Pierzynski and Miles Hulbert to erect new dwellings in Myers' Addition and a permit was granted to Vilas Waters to build a garage.

Loss of water in city mains will be investigated by Philip Davis, La Crosse, and city employees, with a view to locating and eliminating leaks. The electric power situation in the city was discussed, and it was mentioned that steps will have to be taken before too long to provide additional power. Just what will be done hasn't been decided. The 1,490-horsepower diesel, thought by many at the time it was purchased as being too big for the city's needs, is no longer adequate to handle increased demands, and the next 10 years are expected to bring greatly increased electric use here.

Work has been begun by Christ Reedy & Son on the city dikes. Fill will be taken out of the river with a dragline and dikes will be reinforced or raised wherever needed. Special attention will be given to the area in back of the hatchery and near the railroad bridge.

Licenses Granted
Licenses were granted to: Mrs. Mary Wouchick, a cigarette license and a combination class "B" license for the sale of intoxicating liquor and fermented malt beverage and John J. Kampa, a tavern operators' license.

Committees appointed by Mayor Schroeder are as follows: City hall and public property, Edward Berzinski, Melvin Schettler and Ervin Schlarlau; finance and tax, Rudolph Klink, Orvin Angst and Berzinski; electric, waterworks and sewer, Angst, Schettler and Schlarlau; streets and sidewalks, Schlarlau, Schettler and Angst; fire protection, Klink, Schettler and Paul Tyvand Sr.; poor relief, Klink, Berzinski and Tyvand; ordinances and by-laws, Berzinski, Tyvand and Schettler; trees and parks, Schettler, Berzinski and Tyvand; markets and grievances, Berzinski and Klink; auditing bills: Schettler, Klink and Tyvand; board of clerk, Angst, Berzinski and City Clerk Warren Shankey.

VOICE of the OUTDOORS

New Park Sticker

We have the park sticker with us for another two years, whether you like it or not. The legislative session closing Saturday did not repeal the sticker law. To enter any Minnesota state park legally, a motorist must have on the windshield of his automobile or truck a 1955 Minnesota park sticker that sells for one dollar. The sticker is good for one year.

In the above picture, Gov. Orville L. Freeman is shown purchasing the first 1955 park sticker from pretty Miss LaVerne Aliman, a state park sticker seller. The insert is a close-up of the sticker—the state flower—the pink and white moccasin flower, (Cypripedium spectabile).

Incidentally, the name Cypripedium is from the Greek words meaning shoe of Venus. The popular names, lady slipper, moccasin flower and Indian shoe refer to the shape and somewhat shoe-like form of the most conspicuous petal called the lip of the flower. It is a member of the Orchis family and was adopted by the Legislature as the state flower at the 1892 session.

State parks fared good in getting funds during the Minnesota legislative session. U. W. Hella, director of state parks, revealed. In addition to retaining the sticker, the legislators gave the division $8,000 more than was requested, or an annual total of $428,000. In addition, permission was granted to float certificates of indebtedness up to $520,000 for rehabilitation of parks. The division still owes the game and fish fund $236,000 of the $450,000 borrowed two years ago. This is to be paid back from the sale of automobile stickers.

We are sure that the Whitewater Park's good friend, Sen. James A. Keller, got written into the measure or has secured binding promises that part of this fund will be used at Whitewater to build the new camp and otherwise complete the park structures destroyed by the tornado of three years ago.

A note from Waino Kontola, superintendent of Whitewater park reveals that at least 50,000 board feet of pine lumber were salvaged during the past winter from trees killed by hail at James Carley State park near Plainville. The lumber is now drying at Whitewater Park to be used in the camp construction.

Lawyer, Who Almost Was Senator, Dead

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—Clarence E. Martin, 75, prominent corporation lawyer who figured in a bitter 1941 battle between Sen. Neely (D-WVa) and ex-Gov. Homer Holt, died here yesterday. He had been ill four years.

He was a former president of the American Bar Assn. Martin, a prominent West Virginia Democrat very nearly became a U.S. senator.

He was appointed in 1941 by outgoing Gov. Holt, a Democrat, to the Senate vacancy created by the resignation of Neely. Neely, also a Democrat, had just waged a successful campaign to succeed Holt as governor.

But Neely claimed Holt had usurped his authority to appoint someone to the Senate vacancy. He named the late Joseph Rosier of Fairmont, and when a vote was taken in the Senate as to which to seat, Rosier won by two votes.

U.S. Crime Rate Up 5%

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. crime rate took another 5 per cent jump in 1954, with major offenses estimated at 2,267,250, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported today.

This translates into one major crime committed every 13.9 seconds.

Hoover noted that last year was the seventh consecutive year in which the crime rate rose, and the third straight year in which more than two million serious offenses occurred.

The annual Uniform Crime Reports, published in the FBI's annual Uniform Crime Reports, showed that while the nation's population grew by 7 per cent since 1950, the crime rate was increasing by 26.7 per cent during the same period.

The 1954 figures were based on data supplied to the FBI by 5,787 law enforcement agencies covering 90 per cent of the population.

These reports indicated that for every day in 1954, an estimated 34 persons were feloniously slain and 256 other felonious assaults were committed; 49 rapes occurred; 2,874 larcenies were committed; 532 cars were stolen; and there were 185 robberies and 1,422 burglaries.

The rise in the crime rate last year was largely due to increases in robbery (6.8 per cent), burglary (8.4 per cent) and larceny (5.8 per cent).

Murders dropped off 4.3 per cent in both city and rural areas and auto thefts declined 4.7 per cent. Rapes showed a 0.7 per cent increase and aggravated assaults rose 1 per cent.

Permits Top Half-Million; Ahead of '54

Building permit valuation for 1953 soared past the half-million dollar mark last week as permits totaling $216,080 were issued at the city engineer's office.

Permits for three new homes, bringing the year's total to 11, accounted for $28,500 of the total while the "big push" came from a $184,000 permit issued for the construction of the new St. Matthew's Lutheran Church school and gymnasium.

Last year at this time, permits totaling only $213,144 had been issued. The 1953 figure is now $563,178.

The new school-gymnasium will be constructed by WMC, Inc., at 756 W. Wabasha St. It will measure 176 feet, 11½ inches by 110 feet, 7½ inches and will be 32 feet, 3 inches high. The church also drew a permit to wreck a house at 767 W. Broadway.

Hilman Aakre, 870 W. Howard St., will build two of the new homes on West Sarnia street. Each will measure 24 feet, 3 inches by 33 feet and cost about $10,000. The 1-story buildings will be at 660 and 654 W. Sarnia St.

The other new home, at 258 E. Mark St., will be built by John D. Wood, 227 E. King St., for about $8,500. Dimensions of the house are 39 feet 6 inches by 25 feet 1 inch.

The heavy flow of garage permits continued with five issued last week. William F. Keckefoth, 333 W. Sarnia St., received a permit to construct a 12- by 19-foot garage for $500 and Michael Martin will erect a 12- by 22-foot garage near his home at 671 E. King St., for $350. He'll dismantle a shed, too.

The other garage permits went to: Clarence Sobotta, 515 E. 3rd St., to construct a 12- by 20-foot garage for $285; Harry Smocke, 216 High Forest St., who will dismantle a shed and garage to erect a garage for $100, and to Sylvester Cierninski, 876 E. 4th St., who will construct a concrete slab for a garage. Ed Ebert is the contractor for the $75 permit.

Additional Permits
Other permits were drawn by: Harry Reynolds, 764 W. Broadway; Addleman contractor, Seda Sommerfeld, 918 W. 5th St.,

Cement Footings Were Poured last week for the $8½ million generating addition at the Dairyland Power Cooperative station, Alma, Wis. Men of the Fegles Construction Co., Minneapolis, are shown at work on the north section of the building. Approximately 700 cubic yards of concrete were required for this first phase and crews worked 35 consecutive hours to complete it. The wooden box in the center of the steel reinforcing bar network protects a 42-inch water pipe which will supply the $6½ million turbo-generator at the rate of 35,000 gallons a minute. (Daily News photo)

Underground Gas Tank Becoming More Common

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Front yard gas wells in the form of buried tanks of liquefied petroleum gas are becoming more common as home building continues to spread into the country far beyond city mains.

Filled from tank trucks, much in the way oil is delivered, these tanks provide economical storage for a fuel which is kept compressed in liquid form, ready to expand to 270 times its volume as it is released as gas.

This makes it possible for homeowners in locations as remote as vacation lodges in the woods to use gas for home heating or air conditioning as well as for kitchen ranges and other appliances. The fuel is the same liquefied petroleum gas, called LP gas for short, which is used in suburban and rural homes.

The news in bottled gas—bottled propane or tank gas—whatever you choose to call it—is the tremendous growth of the industry paralleling recent population shifts. In the period since the beginning of World War II, nearly half of the population increase in this country occurred in outlying parts of 160 metropolitan areas. In the same time the output of LP gas went up from less than a third of a million gallons to more than five billion gallons last year. These are U.S. Bureau of Mines figures.

House Heating Mostly
Buried tanks are used mainly in connection with house heating. Twin cylinders outside the house are adequate to supply a gas stove, water heater, incinerator, refrigerator and clothes dryer. The reason two are used is to provide an automatic switch over when one is emptied and ready for replacement.

This form of gas is produced by oil refineries and natural gas wells. It burns in a clean, sootless flame and yields close to the maximum in burning efficiency. For example, the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers rates the combustion efficiency of the three major fuels as about 50 per cent for coal, 65 per cent for oil and 80 per cent for gas.

Of course, costs vary from one section of the country to another, depending on transportation and other factors. You can get rough comparative costs of various fuels through their heat content. This is measured in British thermal units (BTUs). One household match, burning completely to the end is said to produce the equivalent in heat of one BTU. Liquefied petroleum gas has a rating of 2,500 to 3,200 BTUs per cubic foot. This is hotter than manufactured and natural gas, usually rated at 450 to 1,100.

Bulk Purchase Rates
Underground tanks of 500 to 1,000-gallon capacities offer the economy of bulk purchase rates. When this fuel is sold in bulk by the gallon, it costs less than when purchased in smaller amounts, such as in the 100-pound bottles.

Tanks usually cost from $300 to $400 installed depending on size, although some dealers lease tanks. And, of course, there's a do-it-yourself angle connected with this gas. It's the self-service cylinder. You probably have noticed a pair of these—not much bigger than a couple of vacuum jugs—connected with a trailer, or mobile home, as they call them now. Well, people who live in trailers like gas stoves, too. The self-service cylinders are handy for a vacation cottage, or camp. When one is empty you take it to the dealer for a fresh supply.

State's Building In 1st Quarter Total 44 Million

Extensive building projects in 13 Minnesota cities last month helped push permit valuation in the state this year well ahead of first quarter 1954 figures.

The total for the 40 Minnesota cities included in the Federal Reserve Bank's report for the first three months of 1955 amounts to $43,991,930 compared with only $27,655,720 for the same cities over a comparable period last year.

Construction of Winona's new fire station added $203,000 to the total and pushed the city's 3-month figure to $265,790. At the end of March 1954, permits issued here totaled $106,380.

And other cities followed suit with large single projects. Austin listed a $236,000 church while Rochester chipped in with a $123,016 motel and a $1,125,000 clinic building. There were numerous large projects in other communities not listed in a comparison table below.

Figures for eight Wisconsin cities, however, are below those during the first quarter of 1954. The total this year is $1,570,370 compared with $2,992,170 during the period January-through-March this year. Both Eau Claire and La Crosse have lower 3-month totals this year.

A comparison with other cities' totals is as follows:

Austin	$457,960	$658,680	$1,064,790
Faribault	86,250	112,050	160,590

Let's get Growing

By A. F. SHIRA
"MUMS" FOR LATE FALL COLORING

IT may seem a little out of place to be talking about growing chrysanthemums for fall coloring when the spring season is just starting, but to have them for full enjoyment in September and October to blend in with other fall colorings, they should be planted early.

The hardy chrysanthemums have been developed over a period of years for earliness and size of bloom. Now there are varieties of long stemmed ones suitable for cuttings that start blooming in September and have flowers measuring three inches across. The foliage of the "mums" has a fragrance all its own and is unmistakable when the cut flowers are in the house. In the late fall the foliage takes on tints of crimson giving additional beauty to the cut flowers. We have picked the blooms in the late fall with snow on the ground. Even partially opened buds will develop freely in the house and will last for days.

In addition to the taller growing forms of the hardy "mums," there are low growing bushy types known as "cushion mums," or as "azaleumums." These are very free blooming and at times make solid mounds of color, but they have shorter stems and are not as popular as the taller growing sorts as cut flowers. As a rule they bloom earlier and thus add length to the blooming season.

No perennial border has a satisfactory completeness, unless it contains some hardy chrysanthemums. If there is sufficient room in the garden, they can be grouped by themselves and with the wide range in sizes, types and colors now obtainable very pleasing effects can be produced.

In purchasing plants buy potted ones, if possible, as they will give

For A Narrow Lot and a small family, this house with only two bedrooms is planned for economical construction. better results than old root stalks. If you have been growing "mums" you can increase your own supply by taking cuttings, or by dividing the crown. In planting, the soil should be well drained and heavily enriched with well-rotted manure, or a balanced fertilizer, for they thrive on plenty of food and moisture. The plants should be set so the top of the crown of the roots is at the soil level. They can be planted about eighteen inches apart and should be watered thoroughly.

Frequent, shallow cultivation is desirable to keep down weeds and to conserve moisture. A good mulch will be beneficial. They should receive a good watering during a dry spell. Just before the buds form additional feeding in the form of a liquid fertilizer, or side dressing, will make stronger plants and give larger blooms.

Since they grow about two feet tall, they blend in as a background for other flowers, or can be used in front of the shrub border. When planting them bear in mind that they will be showy in the late fall when other flowers have been killed by frost.

The require very little winter protection, and generally a light covering of loose litter is sufficient. Sometimes we just break off the remaining stems and use them along with a few leaves as cover after the ground has frozen. Do not cover them so heavily that the material will mat down and smother the plants. Too much protection is worse than none.

If you have not yet seen the magnolia in bloom in Woodlawn Cemetery as mentioned in our article of last Friday, try and get over there this week. Its beauty will repay you for your time and trouble, and perhaps inspire you to get one for your own yard.

Sleeper Steadies Posts for Gate

By AP Newsfeatures

The strength of gate posts for a garden gate is largely underground. A brace, known as a sleeper or scab, joining the lower ends of the two posts provides the strongest support.

Specifications for sturdy gate posts, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association, are 4- by 4-inch lumber with a 1- by 6-inch board used for the sleeper. Posts and sleeper should be of decay-resistant or treated wood.

The usual practice is to set gate posts at least a third of their length below ground. In addition to that depth, they should always extend below any known local frost line.

PAINT JOB FOR HEAD

The new cold wave permanents—while wonderful for your hair—can be tough on bobby pins. Special coatings are applied to the pins to prevent the chemicals used in giving permanents from reacting with the metal and causing streaks in the hair.

THEY DUG FOR PAINT

Before the beginning of recorded history, paints were no more than natural deposits of colored earth found in many parts of the world and combined with a liquid. Even today, these colored earths, or pigments, are still used in paint making.

VAPOR IS VICIOUS

Whenever the water vapor that accumulates within a household strikes a surface that's cold enough, it condenses into water. If interior surfaces are cold enough to cause condensation, the decoration on them can be spoiled in this manner. Moisture vapor can also make its way into the cool hidden spaces inside the walls, then condense and soak everything and timber that may eventually rot and weaken. As the moisture continues its course outward from within the house, it can get under exterior paint, making it blister and peel.

The first railroad locomotive to reach America came from England in 1829, but there is no record that it was ever operated in this country.

Working With Concrete

Do . . . remember that when instructions call for a 1-2-3 mix, it means one part of cement, 2 parts of sand and 3 parts of crushed stone or gravel.

Do . . . be certain that the concrete has completely hardened before removing any wooden forms—which often means a wait of as much as 10 days.

Do . . . bear in mind that strong concrete is made with just enough water to make it workable; too much water weakens the finished job.

Do . . . remove efflorescence (a whitish deposit) from concrete by applying a mixture of one part of muriatic acid to 8 parts of water, using rubber gloves while doing it and being certain to wash off the solution immediately with fresh water.

Do . . . use a wooden trowel when a rough surface is desired on fresh concrete; a steel trowel when a smooth surface is wanted.

Don't . . . forget that if concrete is poured or worked in a temperature below 32 degrees Fahrenheit, it will have a tendency to be brittle when it hardens.

Don't . . . neglect to cure concrete, which simply means taking some means to prevent it from drying too quickly.

Don't . . . allow concrete to harden in the hot sun; cover it with straw, burlap or canvas, sprinkling the covering every day for a week or more.

Don't . . . make a concrete patch level with the surrounding surface, as it will shrink during the drying.

Although tin is softer than copper, the addition of a little tin to copper creates bronze which is harder than either metal.

Sawdust From

O'BRIEN'S

SPRING fix-up and paint-up usually brings around some type of floor finishing, too. You can't really do just half a job and let your floors go. If refinishing the floors in your house is one of the jobs you have lined up, we suggest you try Platon. Platon is a revolutionary new type of floor finish that will outlast varnish 3 times as long. The base of Platon is an acetate and if you didn't use the secret in it, it would never set up. Just stay tacky. The secret is a little bottle of chemical that when mixed with Platon sets it up into a hard glossy surface that won't chip or peel, never discolors the wood and never needs waxing. We have had a sample board down here that we had Platon applied to and we have used it for demonstration purposes. I don't know how long we have had it but it's on Oak flooring and it has yet to discolor.

Our demonstration on it is to whack it with a hammer. Of course the direct result is a great big dent. But the amazing result is that you cannot chip the Platon out of that hammer mark. Varnish would easily chip away from the edge and down in the mark but not Platon. This shows that Platon not only builds up a hard and durable wearing surface but also penetrates and protects even when the finish has been worn. Should Platon wear away in any heavy traffic spot on your floors, and this believe me is going to take some time, but when it does finally wear away you can easily fix up that spot without doing the whole floor again. Sand the spot and fill in with two coats and then go over the whole floor with one coat and it's all set.

Platon must—and we emphasize this—be used on either new floors or thoroughly sanded old floors. All the old finish must be removed down to the bare wood. Platon will not go over any old finishes. So, if you want a floor you can be proud to have showing, finish it up with Platon. There's a lot more that could be written about Platon but if you're interested just give us a ring sometime or better yet stop in and let us show you the samples. Seeing certainly convinces that there is no better finish than Platon.

We have one of the finest stocks of trellis in town right now. Trellis and corner fences and those little bitty line fences that are so popular for around shrubs and bushes. These trellises are made by an old established firm in the trellis making business. The Adolphian Mills of Holly, Michigan. These are all finely manufactured and certainly will do justice to any yard they are put in. We have different types and sizes to fit any want. And we also have these popular Fan Trellises in two different sizes. We invite you to come down and look these Trellises over and take your pick. All set up and painted.

I checked on the rabbits the other day but sadly I must report that they have all passed on to rabbit heaven. She didn't come back to take care of them. Well, maybe next Easter, but if I know rabbits, it will be sooner than that.
